

Business Analyst

Rainbow Ceramics (<http://www.rainbowproppants.com>), a fast growing manufacturer and supplier of ultra-lightweight, lightweight, intermediate- and high-strength ceramic proppants used in hydraulic fracturing in the oil and gas industry, is seeking a qualified candidate for the Business Analyst position to analyze well completion and production data, research on the oil and gas market, and work closely with sales team. Candidates will be highly motivated individuals who can thrive in a dynamic, high growth environment and industry.

The Business Analyst position can be an entry-level position. The candidate will report directly to Corporate Development Manager.

Rainbow Ceramics is an Equal Employment Affirmative Action Employer.

Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree, preferably in communication, mathematics, economics, accounting, engineering, or business major
- Entry level or one to two years' experience
- Strong analytical skills and detail oriented
- Self-directed and self-motivated
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills, computer competence, and team working skills

Responsibilities and Requirements

- Analyze oil and gas market
- Analyze well completion and production data
- Prepare report and presentation as required
- Work side by side with sales team
- Work closely with E&P companies and oilfield services companies
- Undertake customer visits and other contact as required
- Travel in North America and occasionally internationally will be required

Rainbow offers an attractive base salary plus bonus compensation package and comprehensive benefits in a team-oriented environment.

Please forward your cover letter and resume to jobs@rainbowproppants.com. No phone calls, please.